INTER-ISLAND RATES
CLAIM OF J. A. KENNEDY

Freight rates are lower between inter-island points than are the rates on the Sacramento river between San Francisco and Sacramento, according to a statement made on Saturday by James A. Kennedy, president of the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company, the affairs of which are now being probed by the public utilities commission. The California commission, Kennedy stated, has recently authorized the river boats to add 5 percent to the 44 per ton rate for a 90-mile haul, on showing made that the companies are not earning a fair rate of interest on their capital.

Kennedy pointed out to the commission on Saturday that while five boats have been forced out of commission through dull business, expenses have increased in considerable degree in payroll and supplies costs.

Frank Fedo was called upon to pay a fine of $15 and costs for exceeding the speed limits while returning to the city from Waikiki in automobile No. 881 last Saturday evening. Gilliland, owner of motorcycle No. 222, has reported to the police that he has a bill of damages against the driver of automobile No. 238, who he alleges backed the heavier machine into the motorcycle, partially wrecking the latter. The police have apprehended Domingo Ferreira, who was in charge of the auto last Saturday evening.

J. A. MAGOON BELIEVES CONTRACTORS LIABLE TO
ABOUT $50,000 DAMAGES

"The Lord-Young Engineering Company will be liable, I believe, for perhaps $50,000 damages for the destruction of property in the Kewalo district," said J. A. Magoon this morning. "People who have themselves filled up their lots to the established grade, have nevertheless had their shrubbery ruined by the salt water pumped on adjoining lots, which either was allowed to flow upon surrounding property, or seeped through the soil producing the same effect."

The residents of Kewalo district are to hold a mass meeting this evening in the Magoon offices for the purpose of taking action against the work being done by the Lord-Young Company, under contract from the territory. Mr. Magoon stated that injunction proceedings will probably be instituted to prevent further destruction of property, as he insists is occurring.

It is claimed that in the neighborhood of 300 owners of small house lots in the district in question are concerned in this matter. Up to present time, about half of the work has been completed, and it is the property owners above Queen street, whose lands are just beginning to be filled by the dredgings from the waterfront, that will attempt to stop further work. Below Queen street the filling has about been finished, and it is the people in that section who will institute damage proceedings, according to Magoon.

Mr. Magoon claims that most of the property in question is not sanitary, and that the board of health in declaring it such was assuming arbitrary and unlawful authority.

MARSHALL'S LIFE
THREATENED,
SAYS MADAME

Immediately crumple and go down.

She described the condition of both men as greatly intoxicated, with a difference however. She said she did not know what Guertler looked like when he was sober, for that was the only time she had ever seen him; but on the fateful night she said, through the interpreter, that he had "an angry, wild face" that caused her to greatly fear him; that his degree of intoxication seemed to be half-way between reasoning power and absolute drunkenness. She said Marshall also was "full of liquor, but full of life—more so than his companions."

County Attorney Cathcart asked her why she had not narrated Guertler's threat when she testified at the coroner's inquest, and she replied she was not asked at that time what Guertler had said. Asked if she had told the prosecuting attorney of it during their conversation last Friday, Madam Puhi replied that she thought she had.

The cross-examination of this witness probably will be taken up by the defense tomorrow morning. The only other witness called today was Dr. Arthur F. Jackson, resident physician at the Queen's hospital, who was called to attend Guertler when the victim of the affray was taken to the institution. He said Dr. E. C. Waterhouse, who called and performed an operation but did not extract the bullet. Dr. Jackson said the patient lived about 22 hours, dying at 2 o'clock the following morning. He seemed to revive slightly the first few hours and some hope was retained for his recovery, though it was slight. He testified that the course of the bullet was distinctly downward, from the upper right-hand side of the abdomen, just below the ribs, the ball being checked in its course and not passing entirely through the body.

Opening addresses, outlining the case they expect to present to the jury, were made this morning by both City and County Attorney Cathcart for the prosecution, and by Attorney Frank E. Thompson for the defense. Reviewing the story as the prosecution has it, County Attorney Cathcart said he would endeavor to show by testimony that when Marshall left the hula house the first time he was pursued by members of Guertler's party, and that he cursed them and vowed he would kill them; that when he returned and entered the hall the party came toward him, and before any words were spoken he drew the revolver and shot Guertler.

Attorney Thompson said the defense would seek to show that when Marshall was chased from the hula house Guertler pursued him and shouted: "Take off your glasses! I can't hit you when you are wearing them!" and that he did strike at Marshall as the latter jumped upon the running board of the moving automobile in which he escaped. Thompson said the defense would further endeavor to prove that on Marshall's return to get his friend Guertler exclaimed: "What! You back here again?" and then in the rush toward Marshall, had shouted: "Hold on, boys, let me put him out," and again, at Marshall: "Marshall, I'll kill you, I'll murder you." On this showing, Attorney Thompson said the defense would ask the jury to return a verdict of acquittal.

A fair-sized crowd attended the hearing this morning. Conspicuous among those present were Marshall's sister, who has come from Pennsylvania to give her brother her aid and sympathy, and a woman friend of the family. They were the only women in the room, and sat inside the rail at some little distance from the prisoner, in company with his father, E. H. Marshall.

EDWARD I. SPALDING
VISITS HAWAII'S SITE ON EXPOSITION GROUNDS

Edward I. Spalding of Honolulu, one of the most prominent men in the banking and financial circles of the Hawaiian islands, and a party of Honolulu business men, were taken over the site of the exposition March 3 by Commissioner W. D. Egbert of the California Building, says the San Francisco Recorder.

Governor Pinkham of the territory of Hawaii being anxious to have Spalding's opinion of the site already selected by the territory of Hawaii for a pavilion at the exposition, made a personal request of Mr. Spalding, when the latter was on a visit to San Francisco, to make a trip to the grounds. The entire party which made the inspection on Saturday, after a conference with Director of Works Harris D. H. Connick, expressed intense surprise at the immense amount of work already accomplished on the grounds, and said that the site chosen for the islands' pavilion is one of the most desirable on the waterfront. Mr. Spalding leaves this week for Honolulu.

A shipment of tree ferns from Hawaii for the Hawaii display arrived by the Sierra about a week ago and is now on the grounds.

WITH RECORD CROP
OLAA PLANTATION
SHOWS A DEFICIT

sugar. Harvesting was begun on January 6, and to date the juice is of considerably better quality than that of the corresponding period of the last grinding season.

"Crop 1915. This covers an area of 6168.98 acres, of which 559.9 are under plant cane and 5609.08 under ratoons. All of this cane is remarkably well advanced and in excellent condition. With average weather for the coming growing season, it is expected that this crop will surpass the best yield per acre of previous years by a considerable margin.

"Crop 1916. For this crop we will plant between 400 and 500 acres, depending upon the yields of certain 1914 ratoons, this being in addition to the plant area of the outside planters. The total area to be harvested will be about 5390 acres.

"General. Outside of the general overhauling at the end of the 1913 crop, comparatively little work was required in the mill in the short off season.

"In view of the low level of sugar prices which may be expected to follow the recent unfavorable tariff legislation, it is needless to say that every possible effort is being made to reduce operating costs and to increase the yields of sugar per acre."

The treasurer's report shows net receipts from sale of sugar last year of $1,537,278.42. Disbursements for the year on crops amounted to $1,519,568.39. The book assets of the company are $8,075,973.53, and the agent's liability account is $557,737.92.

It is not anticipated that there will be any changes made in the policy of the management, as a result of today's meeting, and presumably the same directorate and management will be continued.
